

Video Editor

unpaid internship

Los Angeles, CA

August 2011

About Opportunity Green

For four years, Opportunity Green has been the nexus of a vital community of innovative business leaders redefining sustainability as a practice that is not only crucial for the environment, but also critical to the success of all business. By engaging the world's most inspired game changers through online conversations, events with strategic partners like the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, and a marquee annual conference at Los Angeles Center Studios (with 1,000+ attendees) , Opportunity Green challenges old business models by inspiring unconventional solutions designed to benefit people, planet and profit.

What We Need

Motivated & enthusiastic individuals who would like to learn about different video formats, learn effective marketing communication.

Film/ Video Editing Internship Details

This is a rare and exciting opportunity to meet and interact with influential business leaders around our mission to foster sustainable business & design in Los Angeles & across the nation.

Training will be through doing, so be prepared for an exciting, fast paced environment. Meals at the office are on us. We would like someone in the LA area who can come into the office consistently. 2-3 days a week and 10-20 hours/week - if you would like to come in more, even better. College students are perfect. Or if you've just graduated and would like to build some experience, that's great too.

This internship is unpaid. Again, if you're into sustainability/green, this is a huge opportunity!

Film/ Video Editing Responsibilities

- Learn and develop skills in Final Cut Pro, Adobe After Effects, Compressor, Guitar Band, Professional use of Video Sharing Sites, and Quicktime Pro
- Edit interviews, panel and keynote presentations.
- Put together compilations
- Edit/ Create Sizzle reels

- Learn different video formats, Learn how to transfer between different video formats
- Learn effective marketing communication
- Potentially shoot video, optional

BENEFITS

- Meet awesome people/make great connections
- Learn about the green space from the inside view of an entrepreneurial company connected to the movers and shakers in sustainability
- Connect and collaborate with the top names and companies in green business
- Gain valuable experience in production, project management, marketing, and business development

Please e-mail mike@opportunitygreen.com with your resume and a brief description highlighting your background and what you'd like to accomplish here at Opportunity Green. We look forward to hearing back from you!